

It is my opinion that the Morse Code Element 1 should be removed entirely from the amateur radio requirements! Not only has the rest of the world began to drop the requirement, but the United States DOD as well as the Coast Guard do not require it anymore.